The Chemical Company Invests in EH&S Staff

Matt Francoeur Will Oversee TCC's Environmental Health and Safety (EH&S) Procedures and Regulations Throughout Product Management

Jamestown, RI – The Chemical Company (TCC) has hired recent URI graduate Matt Francoeur as the newest staff member, and first full-time hire focusing exclusively on TCC environmental health and safety (EH&S) procedures and regulations. Matt will work from TCC global headquarters in Jamestown, RI. In addition to managing EH&S regulations, Matt will assist the inside sales team.

Matt graduated from the University of Rhode Island (URI) in May of 2017, with a bachelor's degree in chemical engineering. Among other responsibilities, Matt will focus on managing the TCC Toxic Substance Control Act (TSCA) regulations, as well as managing TCC REACH and ISO registrations and certifications.
